

Ehlmann Names School Security Task Force

December 21, 2012

Contact: John Sonderegger, Public Information, 636.949.1864

St. Charles County, Missouri - County Executive Steve Ehlmann has named 14 people to the St. Charles County School Task Force for a term expiring June 1, 2013.

The task force will hold two meetings in January at the St. Charles County Administration Building, 201 North Second Street, Rooms 115-116. The meetings will be open to the public and public input will be sought.

Named to the task force are:

- Bernard J. DuBray, Superintendent, Fort Zumwalt School District, representing the school community.
- Jeff Marion, Superintendent, St. Charles School District, representing the school community.
- Bernard Naumann, President, Duchesne High School, representing the school community.
- Rebecca Schmidt, Principal, Immanuel Lutheran School, representing the school community.
- John Oldani, Vice President for Student Development, Lindenwood University, representing the school community.
- Tom Neer, Sheriff, St. Charles County, representing law enforcement.
- Tom Bishop, Chief of Police, City of St. Peters, representing law enforcement.
- Lisa Harrison, Chief of Police, City of Wentzville, representing law enforcement.
- Nancy L. Schneider, Circuit Judge, Division 2, representing law enforcement.
- Kenneth Simmons, Chief Juvenile Officer, St. Charles County, representing law enforcement.
- Laura Heebner, President and Chief Executive Officer of Crider Center, representing mental health treatment.
- Barbara Griffith, President /CEO of Community Living, representing developmental disabilities services.
- Joe Brazil, District 2, , representing the County Council.
- Terry Hollander, District 5, representing the County Council.

###